

Final exit test

1/ The Dialectical Plan engages directly with a debated concept by structuring it as a thesis and antithesis.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False

2/ According to the deductive 'funnel' methodology, what is the first component of a sound introduction?

- ☐ A. Announcement of the Plan
- ☐ B. The Hook
- ☐ C. Definition of Terms
- ☐ D. The Problématique

3/ In the context of a legal research paper introduction, what is the 'Problématique'?

- ☐ A. The explicit announcement of the two parts that will follow in the body.
- ☐ B. The examination and definition of every key word according to its juridical sense.
- ☐ C. The angle of approach, usually phrased as a direct question or a strong affirmative statement.
- ☐ D. An opening statement that engages the reader and introduces the broad context.

4/ When formatting headings for parts and sub-parts, they should be written as full, complex sentences rather than concise phrases.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False

5/ What is the structural rule regarding main headings and sub-headings?

- ☐ A. A main heading should be directly followed by a sub-heading to save space.
- ☐ B. Sub-headings are optional and generally discouraged in the binary plan.

- ☐ C. Main headings and sub-headings should be combined into a single title.
- ☐ D. A brief introductory paragraph must be placed after a main heading to introduce the theme and the two sub-parts.

6/ Which type of binary plan is best suited for describing a legal regime by dividing the subject into static and dynamic aspects?

- ☐ A. The Thematic Plan
- ☐ B. The Analytical Plan
- ☐ C. The Chronologico-Analytical Plan
- ☐ D. The Dialectical Plan